THE USE OF ΦΥΣΙΣ IN FIFTH-CENTURY GREEK LITERATURE

By
JOHN W. BEARDSLEE, JR.
New Brunswick Theological Seminary

THE author's purpose is to trace the history of the Greek word φύσις as known from its actual occurrences in extant literature—from its first use in Homer's Odyssey, through poetic and dramatic literature; its use by the sophists and the Greek historians and in the collection of medical tracts known as Hippocratica; and its philosophical content in the works of Plato and Aristotle. A special supplementary chapter is given on the use of the term by the last-mentioned writers, and there is also an index of passages showing the fifth-century occurrences of the word, with references to Dr. Beardslee's book and to the editions used.

The biblical and theological progress of the past twenty-five years
A new symposium covering the field of modern religious teaching

A GUIDE TO THE STUDY OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

Edited by* GERALD BIRNEY SMITH
Professor of Christian Theology, University of Chicago

The past quarter of a century has seen remarkable growth in theological knowledge and an unusual change in the points of view. Biblical and theological scholars have worked out new methods of studying old subjects which have led to surprisingly fruitful results. The editor of the present volume has compiled a comprehensive survey of this field by twelve well-known scholars. The contributors are:

W. H. P. FAUNCE	SHAILER MATHEWS	SHIRLEY J. CASE
FRANCIS A. CHRISTIE	J. M. POWIS SMITH	ERRETT GATES
GEORGE CROSS	CHARLES R. HENDERSON	THEODORE G. SOARES
ERNEST D. BURTON	EDGAR J. GOODSPEED	GEORGE B. FOSTER

NEW BOOKS

The Teaching of General Science. By W. L. EIKENBERRY, Associate Professor of General Science in the University of Kansas. $2.00, postpaid $2.10. The author discusses in this volume the methods of teaching general science and the reorganization of the science curriculum. He presents, in addition to historical considerations and criticisms of science teaching, a survey of subject-matter, objectives, and concrete suggestions for reform.

A Naturalist in the Great Lakes Region. By ELLIOT R. DOWNING, Associate Professor of Natural Science in the School of Education of the University of Chicago. $3.50, postpaid $3.60. This book was written by an eminent teacher and naturalist who knows the Great Lakes region "inch by inch." It traces the geological and physiographic development of some of the more important features of the region, undertaking to show how the distribution of plants and animals is dependent upon these features.

Evolution, Genetics, and Eugenics. By HORATIO HACKETT NEWMAN, Professor of Zoölogy in the University of Chicago. $3.50, postpaid $3.65. This book has been prepared to meet a specific demand for an account of the various phases of evolutionary biology condensed within the scope of one volume of moderate size. It contains carefully selected excerpts from the writings of many authors, and a compact history of the development of evolutionary science.

Principles of Accounting. By ALBERT C. HODGE and JAMES O. MCKINSEY, the School of Commerce and Administration, the University of Chicago. $3.00, postpaid $3.15. This book fills the special need of a beginning text in accounting to prepare the student for business. The discussion of principles of accounting is primarily in terms of the function of accounting as an administrative aid to the business manager. Consideration is given to the forms of reports and records and the classification of accounts.

Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work, 1921. $3.00, postpaid $3.15. The publications of this organization are written by specialists, men and women who are authorities in their various branches of social improvement. They discuss problems and practical methods, and seek to disseminate information helpful to the social worker.

The Play Movement in the United States. By CLARENCE E. RAINWATER, Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Southern California. $2.75, postpaid $2.90. This volume gives workers in the recreation field a survey of the structure and concept of function of the play movement in this country. It presents a view of the general subject of recreation based on the author's long experience in the field and classroom. Its contents include chapters on the origin, stages, transitions, and trend of the play movement, together with constructive suggestions for those interested in recreation.

The Revelation of John. Is the Book of Revelation a Mystery to You? By SHIRLEY J. CASE, Professor of Early Church History and New Testament, the University of Chicago. $2.75, postpaid $2.90. This is a popular presentation of the subject and not a technical commentary. The author tells why and when the book was written.

Source Book for the Economic Geography of North America. By CHARLES C. COLBY, Assistant Professor of Geography, the University of Chicago. $3.00, postpaid $3.20. The fundamental idea of this book is to make available to the busy teacher material on this subject which is scattered widely through literature. The volume contains short magazine articles and materials from Canadian, Mexican, and United States government publications. They furnish a survey of the different sections of the continent from the viewpoint of industrial opportunity.

A Harmony of the Synoptic Gospels in Greek. By ERNEST D. BURTON and EDGAR J. GOODSPEED. $3.00, postpaid $3.15. The purpose of this volume is to facilitate that careful comparison of the several gospels, sentence by sentence, even word by word, which is the first condition of success in the study of the mutual relation of the gospels, and an indispensable basis for advanced study of their contents.

A Harmony of the Synoptic Gospels in Greek

By ERNEST D. BURTON and EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

$3.00, postpaid $3.15

¶ The problem of determining the relations of our first three gospels to one another, and ascertaining their sources, though studied for over a century, is one that is still but partially solved. Yet on its solution depends the decision of many important questions concerning early Christian thought and especially the teaching of Jesus. The purpose of this volume is to facilitate that careful comparison of the several gospels, sentence by sentence, even word by word, which is the first condition of success in the study of the mutual relation of the gospels, and an indispensable basis for advanced study of their contents.
